Now, that's not to say, that you don't love a good tourist spot, in fact, they're famous for good reason (hello Eiffel Tower!).

But something tells us, that you like to learn about other, lesser-known destinations around the world, that are not only sensational, but offer an unforgettable experience, minus the crowds.

So here it is, the "The 7 jaw-dropping destinations you need to visit."

The only thing missing, is you!

We can't wait to meet you.

Sincerely,

The team at the Metro Travel Haus

SERENGETI NATIONAL PARK, TANZANIA

SAFARI IN AFRICA – THE CRADLE OF HUMANITY

The ultimate destination for every adventurer. And one of the places you shouldn't miss is the Serengeti National Park in Tanzania.

The Maasai called the Plains of Serengeti National Park, "the place where the land moves on forever." And here you can witness the famous Serengeti annual migration, the largest and longest overland migration on Earth.

You'll see the Big 5 – the largest animals of African Savannah, but you might also see the Little 5 – the smallest animals of Safari: Elephant Shrew, Buffalo Weaver Bird, Rhinoceros Beetle, Leopard Tortoise, and Antlion.

This is a must-visit for every outdoor, adventure lover.

#2

YUNGUS ROAD, BOLIVIA

AN UNIQUE EXPERIENCE, FOR THE TRUE DAREDEVILS ONLY

Mountain bikers around the world adore El Camino de la Muerte (The Death Road), as locals call it. Even though 200-300 bikers lose their lives each year, over 25,000 people keep coming each year.

Upon leaving La Paz, the road first ascends to around 4,650 meters at La Cumbre Pass, before descending to 1,200 meters at the town of Coroico, transitioning quickly from cool Altiplano terrain to rainforest, as it winds through very steep hillsides and atop cliffs.

Not many people dare to try this experience, but that only makes it more desirable, right?

#4

TORRES DEL PAINE, CHILE

DESCRIBED AS A 'HIKER'S DREAM' BY TRIP ADVISOR

Torres del Paine is Chilean National Park, and one of the South America's finest National Parks. With huge granite mountains surrounded by azure lakes, trails that meander through emerald forests, roaring rivers you'll cross on rickety bridges and one big, radiant blue glacier, it sure deserves that title. A true heaven for all nature lovers.

For a full experience, we recommend staying in resorts such as Tierra Patagonia Hotel & Spa. This resort is built in such a way that it is immersed in the landscape and emerges from the hillside. You'll have that feeling that you're one with the nature.

FISHING IN MONGOLIA

ARE YOU A FISHERMAN (OF FISHERWOMAN)?

The land of Genghis Khan, the man who controlled most of the known world of its time, may be the perfect choice for you.

Although many associate Mongolia with the Gobi Desert or the vast grassland steppe, the truth is that Mongolia is a land of contrasts.

Yes, this is the land of Gobi, but it is also a place of snowcapped mountains, vast forests, and meadows filled with wild flowers. There are thousands of miles of beautiful, unpolluted rivers and lakes in northern Mongolia.

This is the land of the Taimen and Trout. A true paradise for every fishing-fan.

#6

FOGO ISLAND INN, NEWFOUNDLAND, CANADA

PEACE OF MIND

They say that you don't come to Fogo Island because of a place itself, but because of the peace of mind.

This is the largest offshore island of the Newfoundland, it is a perfect getaway from everyday noise and rush.

And the beautiful Fogo Island Inn provides everything you need to relax, clear your mind, and get more energy for the things that are awaiting you when you come back.

If peace is what you're looking for, you don't want to miss Fogo Island.
